Dear Colleague:

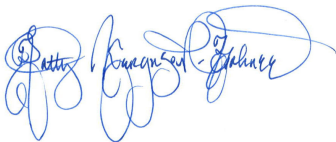

The National Native American Bar Association (“NNABA”) is excited to announce that it will be holding its 40th Anniversary Dinner Celebration on Friday, April 12, 2013. This celebratory event will be held at the Rio Chama Steakhouse in Santa Fe, New Mexico located at 414 Old Santa Fe Trail, from 6:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m.

NNABA began in 1973 in Washington, DC for the purpose of “promoting unity, cooperation, and the interchange of ideas among its members, striving for justice and effective legal representation for all Indian peoples, providing a forum for the discussion, examination and resolution of problems of concern to Indian people....” This celebration honors the founders of NNABA and those who have participated in NNABA’s growth over the last 40 years. Today, NNABA represents over 2,500 American Indian, Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian attorneys throughout the United States. It continues to sponsor and engage in activities and programs that improve opportunities for Native American lawyers and promotes and addresses social, cultural, political and legal issues affecting American Indians, Alaska Natives and Native Hawaiians. At this celebration, NNABA will be raising funds to continue programming in support of the mission set forth 40 years ago.

The NNABA Board invites you to join this celebration and seeks your financial support to raise funds to continue NNABA’s legacy.
