Re: Withdrawal of Renkes Opinion on Jurisdiction of State and Tribal Courts in Child Protection Matters

Dear Governor Parnell and Commissioner Streur:

On March 4, 2011, the Alaska Supreme Court issued State v. Native Village of Tanana, 249 P.3d 734 (Alaska). The Tanana decision is the most recent guidance on the scope of tribal jurisdiction in ICWA-defined child custody proceedings, and therefore supersedes prior guidance from the Department of Law on the same topic. Accordingly, I withdraw the Attorney General Opinion issued by Attorney General Gregg Renkes on October 1, 2004 to Commissioner Joel Gilbertson, "Jurisdiction of State and Tribal Courts in Child Protection Matters," 2004 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 1, 2004 WL 2337177 (Alaska A.G.).

Sincerely,

Michael C. Geraghty
Attorney General
