Is your Tribe actively exercising special domestic violence criminal jurisdiction? (i.e., Tribe has implemented code provisions, community is on notice, law enforcement will arrest, prosecutor's office has at least one case and/or law enforcement has made arrests)

Yes No

If your Tribe is NOT actively exercising special domestic violence criminal jurisdiction, where is your Tribe in implementation? Select the description that best fits:

Early Stages (i.e., Tribal Council and/or Community still discussing it, tribal constitution needs amendment, referendum vote needs to occur, etc.)

Intermediate Stages (i.e., Tribal Council has voiced support and/or passed resolution, actively updating code provisions and policies, collaborating with other tribes, U.S. Attorney's Office, local and/or county agencies on planning, jury pool selection - incorporating non-Indians in the community, etc.)

Advanced Stages (i.e., codes and policies updated, notice out to community that tribal law enforcement will arrest, only one or two things to do)

READY (i.e, Tribe and its law enforcement ready to prosecute offenders but no arrests or cases yet)
