

40 YEARS AFTER THE FOX DECISION

MONDAY • JUNE 3 • 6:30 PM

In 1979, Judge Noel Fox ruled that a number of Indian tribes in Michigan still had the right—retained by their ancestors—to fish in parts of the Great Lakes.

Join this community gathering for panel discussion with esteemed guests to learn about this defining moment in the contemporary life of the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians.

GUESTS INCLUDE GRAND TRAVERSE BAND MEMBERS

Cindi John, Treaty Fish Company

Matthew Fletcher, Professor of Indigenous Law, MSU

Locally caught and prepared smoked fish will be provided by Treaty Fish!
