INTRODUCTION

Plaintiffs have based their claims as alleged in their Second Amended Complaint (SAC) on the following federally protected interests: Article III of the San Pasqual Constitution,<sup>1</sup> [Exhibit “A”]; Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution,<sup>2</sup> 25 C.F.R. §48,<sup>3</sup> [Exhibit “B”]; Civil Rights Statutes as applied to <sup>1</sup>Section 1. Membership shall consist of those living persons whose names appear on the approved Roll of October 5, 1966, according to Title 25, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 48.1 through 48.15.

Sec.2. All membership in the band shall be approved according to the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 25, Part 48.1 through 48.15 and an enrollment ordinance which shall be approved by the Secretary of the Interior.

<sup>2</sup>No person shall be . . . deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation. (The Fifth Amendment has an explicit requirement that the Federal Government not deprive individuals of "life, liberty, or property," without due process of the law and an implicit guarantee that each person receive equal protection of the laws.)

The Field Representative shall refer duly filed applications for enrollment to the Enrollment Committee. The Enrollment Committee shall review each such application and may require an applicant to furnish additional information . . . The Enrollment Committee shall file with the Director through the Field Representative, those applications which it approves and with those applications not approved shall submit a separate report stating reasons for disapproval. The applications whether approved or disapproved shall be filed with the Director within thirty (30) days from receipt of the applications by the Committee. [Emphasis added].

48.8 - Determination of eligibility and enrollment by Director.
The Director shall review the report and recommendations of the Enrollment

1 individual Federal Employees such as DUTSCHKE and MOORE through Bivens
2 v. Six Unknown Fed. Narcotics Agents, 403 U.S. 388 (1971). [SAC §83]

3 Plaintiffs have sued Defendants DUTSCHKE and MOORE in both their 4 official capacity and as individuals. Specifically, Plaintiffs have sued DUTSHCKE 5 and MOORE as individuals: First Claim, [Group A Plaintiffs] Violation of Civil 6 Rights (Due Process); Third Claim, [All Plaintiffs] Violation of Civil Rights
7 (Equal Protection); Fourth Claim, [Group A Plaintiffs] Violation of Civil Rights - 8 (Property Rights). As pled in Plaintiffs' SAC the defendants are government 9 agents acting within the scope of alleged delegated authority and each of the 10 defendants is responsible for the acts and/or omissions of the other Defendants; 11 DUTSCHKE and MOORE have the alleged statutory power, and it is within that 12 _____

13 Committee and shall determine the applicants who are eligible for enrollment in 14 accordance with the provisions of 48.5. The Director shall transmit for review to 15 the Commissioner and for final determination by the Secretary, the report and 16 recommendations of the Enrollment Committee relating to applicants who have 17 been determined by the Director to be eligible for enrollment against the report 18 and recommendations of the Enrollment Committee, and the report and 19 recommendations of the Enrollment Committee relative to applicants who have 20 been determined by the Director not to be eligible for enrollment against the 21 reports and recommendations of the Enrollment Committee, with a statement of 22 the reasons for his determination. [Emphasis added].

23 48.9 - Appeals.

24 If the Director determines that an applicant is not eligible for enrollment in 25 accordance with the provisions of §48.5 he shall notify the applicant in writing of 26 his determination and the reasons therefor. Such applicant shall then have thirty 27 (30) days from the date of the mailing of the notice to him to file with the Director 28 an appeal from the rejection of his application, together with any supporting evidence not previously furnished. The Director shall forward to the Commissioner the appeal, supporting data, and his recommendation thereon, and the report and recommendation of the Enrollment Committee on the application.
[Emphasis added].

1 power, to adjudicate Group A Plaintiffs' applications, and review erroneous 2 enrollments of non-San Pasqual individuals. Yet, they refuse to act pursuant to 3 statutory mandates and fulfill their fiduciary duty to Group A and Group B 4 Plaintiffs. [SAC §§24,25].

6 STATEMENT OF FACTS

7 A. FACTS RELATING TO DUTSCHKE AND MOORE<sup>4</sup>

8 The facts that are relevant to this response are stated in Plaintiffs' SAC and 9 can be found in the following paragraphs: 22; 23; 52 - 63; 67 - 71; 79 - 81; 87 - 10 103; 112- 116; 129 - 13.

11 DUTSCHKE is and has been an employee of the Defendants DOI and BIA 12 since 2000. She served as the acting Pacific Regional Director (Sacramento), 13 Department of Indian Affairs since 2006 and was named Director in 2010. She has 14 been serving as the Office's Deputy Regional Director of Trust Services since 15 June of 2000. Plaintiffs have alleged that it was DUSCHKE [with MOORE's tacit 16 approval] who unilaterally decided to deny the Enrollment Committee's request to 17 correct Modesta Martinez's blood quantum from 3/4 to 4/4 and confirm the 18 enrollment of Jose Juan descendants Group A Plaintiffs. It was DUTCHKE [with 19 MOORE's tacit approval] who unilaterally failed to give Group A Plaintiffs the 20 required statutory notice of actions. It was DUTSCHKE [with MOORE's tacit 21 approval] who unilaterally returned Group A Plaintiffs' applications to the illegal 22 Enrollment Committee without adjudicating their applications in violation of 25 23 C.F.R. §§ 48.8 and 48.9.

25
26 <sup>4</sup>In the SAC, the name MOORE can be substituted for the word 27 "Superintendent" in order to make clear MOORE's responsibilities.

1 B. PLAINTIFFS' RESPONSE TO DEFENDANTS' STATEMENT OF 2 FACTS.

3 Plaintiffs object to Defendants "factual summary" because it is not accurate 4 and is argumentative:

5 1) Pg 1, ln 12: Defendants' misstate Plaintiffs' APA claims which were 6 brought against all defendants in their official capacity;

7 2) Pg 1, ln 25: DUTSCHKE, with MOORE's tacit approval, intentionally 8 disregarded statutory mandate to adjudicate Group A Plaintiffs' applications 9 pursuant to 25 C.F.R. 48.5(b) and 48.8, and to give them the statutory notice 10 required in 25 C.F.R. §§48.7, 48.8, and 48.9 of her decision regarding 11 Group A Plaintiffs' ancestor Modesta Martinez Contreras; 3) Pg 3, ln 1-4: 12 In 2005, Group A Plaintiffs submitted their applications for federal 13 recognition to the Constitutionally validly elected Enrollment Committee 14 which unanimously voted that Group A Plaintiffs had sustained their burden 15 of proof establishing they were qualified for enrollment. (SAC ¶52). The 16 Enrollment Committee took its determination to the Tribe's General Council 17 which unanimously agreed with the Enrollment Committee on April 10, 18 2005. (SAC ¶53). On September 12, 2005 the Tribe's Business Committee 19 wrote to James Fletcher [MOORE's predecessor (SAC ¶23)] stating it 20 concurred with the Enrollment Committee and General Council for the 21 enrollment of Group A Plaintiffs. (SAC ¶¶23, 54). Ten days later, on 22 September 25, 2005, the Enrollment Committee submitted a letter to 23 Fletcher [MOORE's predecessor] requesting the BIA correct Modesta's 24 blood degree from 3/4 to 4/4 and enroll Group A Plaintiffs;

25 3) Pg 5, Ln 20, Ft nt No 2: The Defendants conveniently ignore the statutory 26 requirement that DUTSCHKE was required to adjudicate Group A 27 Plaintiffs' applications pursuant to 25 C.F.R. §48.8, and not return them to 28

1 the subsequently illegally formed Enrollment Committee. By intentionally 2 ignoring this statutory mandate, DUTSCHKE, with MOORE's
3 acquiescence, denied Group A Plaintiffs their due process right to appeal 4 pursuant to 25 C.F.R. §48.9. By failing to send Group A Plaintiffs the 5 required statutory notice under 25 C.F.R. §48.8 that she denied the 6 Enrollment Committee's request to adjust Modesta's blood quantum from 7 3/4 to 4/4, she denied them the right to appeal her negative finding 8 regarding Modesta. Defendant MOORE has been aware of this situation 9 since at least May 2016 (SAC 23) and has done nothing to rectify the 10 statutory violations.<sup>5</sup>

11 4) Pg 4, ln 16 - 18 is factually incorrect. Plaintiffs, in their complaint at 12 Paragraph 23 clearly identify MOORE as the successor to James Fletcher in 13 2016. Certainly, this has given MOORE more than adequate time to correct 14 the constitutional and statutory violations that have occurred in this case.
15 Furthermore, Group A Plaintiffs specifically pled in paragraph 24 "Each of 16 the Defendants herein is responsible for the acts and/or omissions [or the 17 other Defendants] as herein alleged. Since DUTSCHKE was and is 18 MOORE's supervisor she had a duty and responsibility to assure that her 19 subordinates followed statutory mandates.

20 ///

22 ///

25 <sup>5</sup>Because Group A Plaintiffs are not federally recognized and enrolled in the 26 San Pasqual Band of Mission Indians they have no standing to seek a remedy in 27 tribal court. DUTSCHKE and MOORE's actions and/or inactions have left Group 28 A Plaintiffs without any remedy except to come into Federal Court.

III

LEGAL STANDARD FOR MOTION TO DISMISS

A. MOTION TO DISMISS PURSUANT TO RULE 12(b)(6)

In evaluating Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, the Court must "treat the complaint's factual allegations as true . . . and must grant plaintiff the benefit of all inferences that can be derived from the facts alleged." Sparrow v. United Air Lines, Inc., 216 F.3d 1111, 1113 (D.C.Cir. 2000) (quoting Schuler v. United States, 617 F.2d 605, 608 (D.C.Cir.1979); see also Jerome Steen Pharms., Inc. v. FDA, 402 F.3d 1249, 1253 (D.C.Cir.2005). This standard governs the Court's considerations of Defendants' contentions under Fed.R.Civ.P.12(b)(6) [and 12(b)(1)].<sup>6</sup> See Scheuer v. Rhodes, 416 U.S. 232, 236 (1974). ("[I]n passing on a motion to dismiss, whether on the ground of lack of jurisdiction over the subject matter or for failure to state a cause of action, the allegations of the complaint should be construed favorably to the pleader."); Walker v. Jones, 733 F.2d 923, 925-26 (D.C.Cir. (1984)(same).

B. MOTION TO DISMISS PURSUANT TO RULE 8(a)

Defendants quote Rule 8(a) which states, in pertinent part: "a short and plain statement of the claim showing the pleader is entitled to relief." Defendants ignore the fact that this is the minimal requirement for pleading. There are no rules that state that a Plaintiff can not give a full factual basis for their claims in their complaint, which avoids motions, for example, for a more definite statement, and other motions to dismiss. This issue was discussed by the Court in Davis v. Passman, 442 U.S. 228 (1979) wherein the Court stated: ". . . the authors of the <sup>6</sup>A motion brought pursuant to 12(b)(1) requires the Plaintiff to prove that the Court has subject-matter jurisdiction to hear his claims. Defendants' have brought their Motion to Dismiss under 12(b)(6) thereby conceding that this Court has subject matter jurisdiction over their claims.

1 Federal Rules of Civil procedure eschewed it [i.e. “cause of action”] altogether, 2 requiring only that a complaint contain “a short and plain statement of the claim 3 showing that the pleader is entitled to relief.” Fed.Rule Civ.Pro 8(a).” Id. at 238.
4 Clearly, a detailed factual statement such as is contained in Plaintiffs SAC is not 5 prohibited. In fact, dismissal of Plaintiffs SAC would run contrary to many of the 6 values underlying the federal rules. See, Arthur Miller, “From Conley to Twombly 7 to Iqbal: A Double Play on the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure,” Duke Law 8 Journal, Vol 60, No. 1, Oct. 2010.

9 Plaintiffs responded to Defendants Rule 8(a) Motion to Dismiss Plaintiffs’ 10 SAC that has been previously filed and set for hearing on the same day as this 11 motion is set. Plaintiffs discussed at length each of the cases cited by the 12 Defendants stating: “Plaintiffs’ complaint is not excessive, verbose, or repetitive.” 13 Plaintiffs then analyzed the cases cited by the Defendants: Cal. Coal. For Families 14 & Children v. San Diego Cnty. Bar Assn., 657 Fed.Appx.675, 677-78 (9th Cir.
15 2016 (unpublished) and Polk v. Beard, 692 F. App’x 938 (9th Cir. 2017 16 (unpublished); Mc Henry v. Renne, 84 F.3d 1172 (9th Cir. 1996); Gottschalk v.
17 City and County of San Francisco, 964 F.Supp.2d 1147, 1154-55 (N.D. Cal.
18 2013); Bank of America v. Knight, 725 F.3d 815 (2013). [See Exhibit C].
19 Plaintiffs’ hereby incorporate that argument as if fully set forth herein.

20 In Jefferson v. Harris, 170 F.Supp.3d 194 (2016) the Court referred to the 21 fact that it had to arrange the facts as stated in Jefferson’s complaint into 22 chronological order “as best as it can –no small feat given the Amended 23 Complaint’s Faulknerian sense of time and consistent failure to assign even 24 approximate dates to critical facts.” In spite of these defects, the Court did not 25 dismiss Jefferson’s complaint. In fact, the court later stated: “Before proceeding to 26 the analysis, the Court notes that to the extent this count names individuals, it 27
28

1 presumes they are being sued in their official capacity, particularly since 2 Plaintiff's Bivens action in Count III is asserted against the same individuals and 3 relies on the same legal theory. It will, accordingly, treat Count II as if it were 4 brought only against the agencies and entities themselves." Furthermore, the Court 5 stated: "That he improperly seeks money damages in addition to injunctive relief 6 does not bar his claim." This is true of Plaintiffs' SAC, assuming arguendo, they 7 have improperly sought money damages. [Under Bivens, Plaintiffs are entitled to 8 seek punitive damages]. This Court should follow the Jefferson Court's example 9 and not dismiss any claims that could be interpreted to be improperly seeking 10 money damages. In addition, instead of dismissing Jefferson's complaint, the 11 Court stated: "[T]he remedy mandated by the Due Process Clause . . . is 'an 12 opportunity to refute the charge.'" In the case at bar, the Plaintiffs have been 13 denied any opportunity to refute the erroneous findings made by DUTSHKE and 14 affirmed by MOORE.

15 C. MOTION TO DISMISS PURSUANT TO RULE 41(b)

16 Defendants keep insisting that Plaintiffs have violated a court order and 17 move to dismiss their complaint for this violation. Plaintiffs contend that they 18 have not violated this court's order because the facts as pled are necessary in order 19 to support Plaintiffs' claims of civil conspiracy and to show motive for 20 Defendants' intentional actions that have violated Plaintiffs' civil rights.

21 IV

22 BASIS FOR DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS

23 Individual Defendants DUTESCHKE and MOORE have brought their 24 Motion to Dismiss Plaintiffs' Second Amended Complaint based on the following 25 legal theories: 1) They have qualified immunity and therefore cannot be sued as 26 individuals under Bivens v. Six Unknown Fed. Narcotics Agents, 403 U.S. 388 27
28

1 (1971); 2) Plaintiffs' SAC fails the test for a new Bivens Claim; 3) Plaintiffs' 2 Bivens Claims suffer from additional defects; 4) Plaintiffs' SAC fails to state a 3 claim for personal liability under the APA; 5) Plaintiffs' SAC violates Rules 8(a) 4 and 41(b). Defendant's contentions are without merit.

5 V

6 NEITHER DUTSCHKE NOR MOORE HAVE QUALIFIED IMMUNITY

7 The issue of Qualified Immunity has been discussed by the Courts for 8 decades. Defendants cite several cases to support their baseless claim that 9 DUTSCHKE and MOORE are protected by Qualified Immunity: Mitchell v.
10 Forsyth, 471 U.S. 511 (1985); Anderson v. Creighton, 483 U.S. 635 (1987); 11 Hunter v. Bryant, 502 U.S. 224; Saucier v. Katz, 533 U.S. 194 (2001); Pearson
12 et.al. v. Callahan, 129 S.Ct. 808 (2009); Acosta v. City of Costa Mesa, 694 F.3d 13 960 (9th Cir. 2012). As discussed below, these cases are distinguishable and do not 14 support Defendants' claim that they are entitled to Qualified Immunity. In fact, 15 they support Plaintiffs' claims that Defendants' DUTSCHKE and MOORE are not 16 entitled to qualified immunity.

17 A. Mitchell v. Forsyth, 471 U.S. 511 (1985)

18 In 1970 Attorney General John Mitchell authorized warrantless wiretaps for 19 the purpose of gathering intelligence that was needed for national security. At the 20 time the wiretaps were conducted the law on wireless wiretaps was uncertain. The 21 Court held that Mitchell was entitled to qualified immunity from suit for his 22 authorization of the wiretap notwithstanding his actions violated the Fourth 23 Amendment. "Under Harlow v. Fitzgerald, 457 U.S. 800 (1982), petitioner is 24 immune unless his actions violated clearly established law. In 1970, when the 25 wiretap took place, well over a year before Keith [United State v. United States
26 District Court, 407 U.S. 297 (1972) (Keith)] was decided, it was not clearly 27
28

1 established that such a wiretap was unconstitutional.” Mitchell, supra at 530-535.

2       Meanwhile, the Court in Harlow v. Fitzgerald, 457 U.S. 800 (1982) purged 3 the qualified immunity doctrine of its subjective components and held that 4 “government officials performing discretionary functions, generally are shielded 5 from liability for civil damages insofar as their conduct does not violate clearly 6 established statutory or constitutional rights of which a reasonable person would 7 have known.”<sup>7</sup> Applying this standard to the case at bar it is clear that neither 8 DUTSCHKE nor MOORE are entitled to absolute or qualified immunity. The 9 facts of this case, as pled in Plaintiffs’ SAC, clearly show the following: 1) 10 DUTSCHKE and MOORE’s actions violated “clearly established statutory or 11 constitutional rights of which a reasonable person would have known.” Plaintiffs’ 12 statutory claims are based on 25 C.F.R. §48 [Exhibit A]; the San Pasqual 13 Constitution [Exhibit B], and the Due Process Clause of the United States 14 Constitution. 2) The act was not discretionary, but was mandated by 25 CFR 15 §§48.7, 48.8, and 48.9 as pled throughout Plaintiffs SAC. Therefore, pursuant to 16 Harlow and Mitchell, DUTSCHKE and MOORE are not entitled to have Plaintiffs 17 SAC dismissed based on qualified immunity. In the case at bar, the legal norms 18 violated by the Defendants were clearly established at the time of the challenged 19 action.

21       <sup>7</sup>The Court concluded that the Attorney General is not absolutely immune 22 from suit for damages arising out of his “allegedly unconstitutional conduct in 23 performing his national security functions.” Only judges, prosecutors, witnesses, 24 and officials performing “quasijudicial” functions have absolute immunity similar 25 to that afforded the president.
26
27
28

1 B. Anderson v. Creighton, 483 U.S. 635 (1987)

2 The Court in Anderson citing Harlow v. Fitzgerald, 457 U.S.800 stated:
3 “Whether an official protected by qualified immunity may be held personally 4 liable for an allegedly unlawful official action generally turns on the ‘objective 5 legal reasonableness’ of the action, assessed in light of the legal rules that were 6 “clearly established” at the time the action was taken. Id. In order to conclude that 7 the right which the official allegedly violated is “clearly established,” the contours 8 of the rights must be sufficiently clear that a reasonable official would understand 9 that what he is doing violates that right. Anderson at 636. Qualified immunity only 10 protects reasonable official actions. The actions taken by DUTSHKE and 11 MOORE violated “clearly established” statutory and constitutional rules.
12 Therefore, their actions were not reasonable official actions as pled in Plaintiffs’
13 SAC.

14 Again citing Harlow, the Anderson Court stated: “When government 15 officials abuse their offices, “action[s] for damages may offer the only realistic 16 avenue for vindication of constitutional guarantees” Harlow at 814. “Our cases 17 have accommodated these conflicting concerns by generally providing 18 government officials performing discretionary functions with a qualified 19 immunity, shielding them from civil damages liability as long as their actions 20 could reasonably have been thought consistent with the rights they are alleged to 21 have violated. See, e.g., Malaley v. Briggs, 475 U.S. 335, 341 (1986) (qualified 22 immunity protects “all but the plainly incompetent or those who knowingly violate 23 the law”). Id. at 475 U.S. 344-345. Take your pick, Defendants were either plainly 24 incompetent or knowingly violated the mandates of 25 CFR §§48.7, 48.8, 48.9, the 25 Due Process clause contained in the U.S. Constitution, and the San Pasqual 26 Constitution.

1           “The right to due process of law is quite clearly established by the Due 2 process Clause, and thus there is a sense in which any action that violates that 3 Clause (no matter how unclear it may be that the particular action is a violation) 4 violates clearly established rights. Much the same could be said of any other 5 constitutional or statutory violation. Anderson at 640. The law is clearly on 6 Plaintiffs’ side: Neither DUTSCHKE nor MOORE are entitled to qualified 7 immunity. The unlawfulness of the Defendants’ actions as pled in Plaintiffs’ SAC 8 is clearly apparent in this case. See Malley, supra, at 475 U.S. 344-345; Mitchell, 9 supra at 472 U.S. 528; Davis, supra, at 468 U.S. 191, 195.

10 C. Hunter v. Bryant, 502 U.S. 224 (1991)

11           In Hunter the Court held that the officers were entitled to qualified 12 immunity because a “reasonable officer could have believed the arrest to be lawful 13 in light of clearly established law and the information the agents possessed. . . .
14 because their decision was reasonable.” Id. Neither DUTSCHKE’s nor MOORE’s 15 decisions as pled in plaintiffs’ SAC were reasonable.

16 D. Saucier v. Katz, 533 U.S. 194 (2001)

17           Saucier v. Katz is another criminal case cited by the Defendants for the 18 proposition that they are entitled to qualified immunity. These cases are not 19 instructive for the issues in the case at bar for numerous reasons: 1) they are 20 criminal cases dealing with warrantless searches and seizures; 2) they are criminal 21 cases dealing with excessive force issues; 3) They deal with Fourth Amendment 22 rights and not Fifth Amendment rights; and 4) the “two part” qualified immunity 23 inquiry designed by the Ninth Circuit does not fit the facts of this case because 24 C.F.R. §§48.7,48.8, and 48.9 contain a clear statutory and constitutional mandate 25 requiring Defendants DUTSCHKE and MOORE to do specific acts which they did 26 not do and have not done.

1 E. Pearson et.al. v. Callahan, 129 S.Ct. 808 (2009)

2 Pearson is another search and seizure case. Here the Court applied the 3 Saucier procedure; a two-step sequence for resolving government official's 4 qualified immunity claims: "A court must decide (1) whether the facts alleged or 5 shown by the plaintiff make out a violation of a constitutional right, and (2) if so, 6 whether that right was "clearly established" at the time of the defendants' alleged 7 misconduct. Qualified immunity applies unless the official's conduct violated such 8 a rights." [Saucier v. Katz, 533 U.S. 194 (2001); Anderson v. Creighton, 483 U.S.
9 635, 640 (1987)]. Both DUTSCHKE's and MOORE's conduct violated Plaintiffs 10 statutory and constitutional rights which were clearly established at the time.
11 Even more telling is the fact that the Defendants have failed to state any relevant 12 facts showing that their actions did not and do not violate clearly established law.

13 The Pearson Court stated: "When qualified immunity is asserted at the 14 pleading stage, the answer to whether there was a violation may depend on a 15 kaleidoscope of facts not yet fully developed." Id. This Court should deny 16 Defendants' motion to dismiss so that Plaintiffs can conduct their discovery in 17 order to develop other unknown facts.

18 F. Acosta v. City of Costa Mesa, 694 F.3d 960 (9th Cir. 2012)

19 The Ninth Circuit in Acosta found that Acosta had alternative adequate 20 remedies that were readily available to him under both California Civil procedure 21 Code Section 1085 and the Ralph Brown Act, Government Code Section 54960.
22 The Plaintiffs in the case at bar do not have any alternative adequate remedies 23 available to them except to bring their claims to this Court.

25 BIVENS ACTION

26 Bivens v. Six Unknown Fed. Narcotics Agents, 403 U.S. 388 (1971)

27
28

1 A THE COURTS HAVE ALREADY EXPANDED BIVENS CLAIMS TO 2 VIOLATION OF CONSTITUTIONAL GUARANTEES OF DUE 3 PROCESS OF LAW UNDER THE FIFTH AMENDMENT OF THE 4 UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION.

5 The U.S. Supreme Court in Bivens v. Six Unknown Fed. Narcotics Agents, 6 403 U.S. 388 (1971) held that violation of the command stated in the Fourth 7 Amendment<sup>8</sup> by a federal agent acting under color of his authority gives rise to a 8 cause of action for damages consequent upon his unconstitutional conduct. The 9 Fourth Amendment guarantees to citizens of the United States the absolute right to 10 be free from unreasonable and unlawful actions carried out by virtue of federal 11 authority. “[W]here federally protected rights have been invaded, it has been the 12 rule from the beginning that courts will be alert to adjust their remedies so as to 13 grant the necessary relief.” Bivens at 393 citing Bell v. Hood, 327 U.S. at 327, 684; 14 Bemis Bros. Bag Co. v. United States, 289 U.S. 28, 36 (1933); The Western Maid, 15 257 U.S. 419, 433 (1922). “Historically, damages have been regarded as the 16 ordinary remedy for an invasion of personal interests in liberty.” Bivens at 396 17 citing Nixon v. Condon, 286 U.S. 73 (1932).

18 Because there is no explicit congressional declaration that persons injured 19 by a federal officer’s violation of the Fourth Amendment may not recover money 20 damages from the agents, but instead be remitted to another remedy, the Bevins 21 Court stated that if an injured party can demonstrate an injury “consequent upon 22 the violation by federal agents of his Fourth Amendment rights, he is entitled to 23 redress his injury through the federal court” because, as stated by Judge 24 Waterman, “I am of the opinion that federal courts do have the power to award 25 damages for violation of “constitutionally protected interests, . . .and I agree

26 <sup>8</sup>“The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and 27 effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated . . .”

1 with the Court that a traditional judicial remedy such as damages is appropriate to 2 the vindication of the personal interests protected by the Fourth Amendment.” 3 Bevins at 400. [Emphasis added].

4 Analogous to the interest which Bivens claimed, Plaintiffs’ claims involve 5 personal interests that are protected by the Fifth Amendment: to be free from 6 official conduct in contravention of the Fifth Amendment is clearly a federally 7 protected interest. “In suits for damages based on violations of federal statutes 8 lacking any express authorization of a damage remedy, the Supreme Court has 9 authorized relief where, in its view, damages are necessary to effectuate the 10 congressional policy underpinning the substantive provisions of the statute.”
11 Bivens at 403 (citations omitted). Subsequently, the Supreme Court expanded 12 Bivens to include claims based directly on the Due Process Clause of the Fifth 13 Amendment. See, Davis v. Passman, 442 U.S. 228 (1979). In Davis v. Passman, 14 the Court concluded that a cause of action and a damages remedy can be implied 15 directly under the Constitution when the Due Process Clause of the Fifth 16 Amendment is violated. Id. at 231. Furthermore, in this case, there is no “explicit 17 congressional declaration” against Plaintiffs’ recovering damages based on their 18 Fifth Amendment constitutional claims.<sup>9</sup> In numerous decisions the Supreme 17 Bivens remedy was available to respondent’s Eighth Amendment claims even 18 though the allegations could have also supported a suit against the United States 19 under the Federal Tort Claims Act (FTCA). [See, Carlson v. Green, 446 U.S. 18-

1 Plaintiffs Fifth Amendment Rights, tactically approved DUTSCHKE's 2 unconstitutional actions, when brought to his attention in May 2006.

3 The Court in Davis v. Passman, 442 U.S. 228, 245 (1979) held that a Bivens 4 remedy could also be inferred from the Due Process Clause of the Fifth 5 Amendment. Davis also established two conditions wherein a Plaintiff's Bivens 6 claim could be defeated: First, when defendants demonstrate "special factors 7 counseling hesitation in the absence of affirmative action by congress." [citations 8 omitted]; "the second is when defendants show that Congress has provided an 9 alternative remedy which it explicitly declared to be a substitute for recovery 10 directly under the Constitution and viewed as equally effective [citations omitted].
11 Id. at 245-247. It is clear that neither situation is present in the case at bar.
12 Furthermore, when Congress amended the FTCA<sup>11</sup> in 1974 to create a cause of 13 action against the United States for intentional torts committed by federal law 14 enforcement officers, [28 U.S.C. 2680(h)] the congressional comments 15 accompanying that amendment made it crystal clear that Congress views FTCA 16 and Biven as parallel, complementary causes of action. Carlson at 20.

17 This Court derives its power directly from the Constitution to enjoin 18 invasion of constitutionally protected interests. "[A] court of law vested with 19 jurisdiction over the subject matter of a suit has the power –and therefore the duty 20 – to make principled choices among traditional judicial remedies." Bevins, ftnt 2/8 21 at 412. The Court in Butz v. Economou, 438 U.S. 478, 504 (1978) stated: "Our 22 system of jurisprudence rests on the assumption that all individuals, whatever their 23 position in government, are subject to federal law." The Defendants in this case 24 have treated Plaintiffs in such a manner that they hold themselves out to be 25 immune from federal law. They have clearly abused their position in the

26
27 <sup>11</sup>The FTCA provides for a waiver of sovereign immunity.

1 government. “No man in this country is so high that he is above the law. No 2 officer of the law may set that law at defiance with impunity. All officers of the 3 government, from the highest to the lowest, are creatures of the law, and are bound 4 to obey it.” United States v. Lee, 106 U.S. 196, 220 (1882). This Court has the 5 jurisdiction and the power to bind the Defendants in this case to the letter of the 6 law.

7 The Defendants cited Correctional Services Corporation v. Malesko, 534 8 U.S. 61 (2001) in support of their motion to dismiss. Malesko is simply not 9 applicable in this case because Plaintiffs are not seeking to extend a Bivens action.
10 The Respondent Malesko was seeking to extend Bivens to a corporation acting as 11 a private individual. The Court stated: “[A] Bivens action may only be maintained 12 against an individual, and was not available against a corporate entity” that did not 13 engage in federal action. As stated above, the Courts have already recognized a 14 Bevins action for Fifth Amendment violations by government actors.

15 16 PLAINTIFFS’ BIVENS CLAIM IS PROPERLY BEFORE THIS 17 COURT AND DOES NOT SUFFER FROM DEFECTS AS ALLEGED 18 BY DEFENDANTS

19 The Court in Jefferson v. Harris, 170 F.Supp.3d 194 (2016) sustained 20 Jefferson’s due process claim against his employer, the federal government, but 21 dismissed his Third Count of action which was a Bivens action against individuals 22 because the Court found that there was a comprehensive remedial scheme that 23 existed which was Jefferson’s exclusive remedy. There are no such 24 comprehensive remedial schemes available to Plaintiffs in this case. Therefore, 25 Jefferson is not applicable to the case at bar.

26 In Wilkie v. Robbins, 551 U.S.537 (2007), Robbins claimed that the 27 Defendants violated his Fourth and Fifth Amendment rights when the United 28

1 States tried to force him to give the government an easement over his land. The 2 Court declined to extend Bivens to these set of facts because Robbins had 3 alternative, existing processes for protecting his interest. The Supreme Court after 4 Ex parte Young, 209 U.S. 123 (1908), repeatedly recognized a comparable power 5 on the part of federal district courts to enjoin federal executive officers from 6 unconstitutional actions despite the absence of a statute specifically authorizing 7 such relief. See, e.g., Stark v. Wickard, 321 U.S.288, 290 (1944); Shields v. Utah 8 Idaho Cent. R.R.Co., 305 U.S. 177, 183-84 (1938).

9 In conclusion, although the Supreme Court has never squarely suggested 10 that Bivens remedies are constitutionally compelled, it has also never held that 11 they are not. The Supreme Court has never declined to recognize a Bivens remedy 12 in a case where, as in the case at bar, the absence of such relief left the plaintiff 13 with no legal remedy whatsoever.

15 DEFENDANTS HAVE MISINTERPRETED 16 PLAINTIFFS CLAIMS UNDER THE APA

17 Plaintiffs have, in detail, responded to Defendant's arguments in support of 18 their previous Motion to Dismiss Plaintiffs' SAC which is calendared for the same 19 date and time as this motion. Defendants state that Plaintiffs can not bring a 20 private cause of action against Defendants DUTSCHKE and MOORE under the 21 APA. Plaintiffs' SAC does not allege a private cause of action against 22 DUTSCHKE and/or MOORE as individuals. Plaintiffs have sought judicial 23 review pursuant to the specific provisions of 25 C.F.R.§48, the United States
24 Constitution, Bivens, and the San Pasqual Constitution each giving this Court 25 specific authorization from the substantive statute, in addition to the general 26
27
28

1 review provisions of the Administrative Procedures Act [APA]. Section 702<sup>12</sup> of 2 the APA “waives sovereign immunity for actions against federal government 3 agencies, seeking non-monetary relief,<sup>13</sup> if the agency conduct is otherwise subject 4 to judicial review.” Sheeran v. Army & Air Force Exch. Serv., 619 F.2d 1132, 5 1139 (5th Cir. 1980), rev’d on other grounds, 456 U.S. 728 (1982) see also

7 8 <sup>12</sup>Section 702 contains two separate requirements for establishing a waiver 9 of sovereign immunity. Lujan v. Nat’l Wildlife Fed, 497 U.S. 871 (1990). First, 10 plaintiff must identify some “agency action” affecting him in a specific way, 11 which is the basis for his entitlement for judicial review, id., This “agency action” 12 for the purposes of 702 is set forth by 5 U.S.C. 551(13) and is defined as “the 13 whole or part of an agency rule, order, license, sanction, relief, or the equivalent or 14 denial thereof, or failure to act.” 5 U.S.C. 551(13). Second, the plaintiff must show 15 that he has “suffered legal wrong because of the challenged agency action or is 16 adversely affected or aggrieved by that action within the meaning of a relevant 17 statute.” Lujan, 497 U.S. at 883. These requirements apply to any waiver of 18 sovereign immunity pursuant to 702. Plaintiffs have satisfied these pleading 19 requirements in their SAC.
20
21
22
23

24 <sup>13</sup>The Prayer in Plaintiffs’ SAC specifically states: “damages as allowed by 25 law.” [See: Pgs 96:16; 97:14; 98:7; 99:3,22;100:3,21.].
26
27

1 Armendariz-Mata v. U.S. Dep't of Justice, 52 F.3d 679, 682 (5th Cir. 1996).
2 “Congress intended to broaden the avenues for judicial review of agency action by 3 eliminating the defense of sovereign immunity in cases covered by 702 . . .” [5 4 USC 702]. [See, Jaffee v. United States, 592 F.2d 718-719 (3rd Cir.), cert. denied, 5 443 U.S. 961 (1979) for illumination of 702' s legislative history. These standards
6 were discussed in the cases cited by Defendants: Hughes v. United States, 953 7 F.2d 531 (9th Cir. 1992) [a tax case] wherein the Court found that the Secretary of 8 State failed to properly delegate his authority and the Anti-Injunction Act , 26 9 USC 7421, was a bar to waiver of sovereign immunity under 5 USC 702].

10 Section 702 also waives immunity for claims where a person is “adversely 11 affected or aggrieved by agency action within the meaning of a relevant statute.” 5 12 USC 702. This type of waiver applies when judicial review is sought pursuant to a 13 statutory or non-statutory cause of action that arises completely apart from the 14 general provisions of the APA. Sheehan v. Army and Air Force Exchange Service, 15 619 F.2d 1132, 1139 (5th Cir.1980). There is no requirement of ‘finality’ for this 16 type of waiver to apply. [The requirement of “finality” comes from 704 and has 17 been read into 702 in cases where review is sought pursuant only to the general 18 provisions of the APA. Sierra Club v. Peterson, 228 F.3d 559, 565 (5th Cir. 2000); 19 Amer. Airlines, Inc. v. Herman, 176 F.3d 283, 287 (5th Cir. 1999).]. Pursuant to 20 this case law, this Court has jurisdiction to adjudicate Plaintiffs’ claims based on 21 statutory violations and the APA.

22 In the APA, Congress granted a private right of action to enforce federal 23 rights against federal agencies. [5 U.S.C. §702] (“a person suffering legal wrong 24 because of agency action, or adversely affected or aggrieved by agency action 25 within the meaning of a relevant statute, is entitled to judicial relief thereof.”). The 26 APA grants a general waiver of sovereign immunity. Because 5 U.S.C. 702 creates 27
28

1 the right of action expressly, there is no need to look for an implied right of action 2 against the federal government. The APA, then waives the federal government's 3 sovereign immunity over suits "seeking relief other than money damages and 4 stating a claim that an agency or an officer or employee thereof acted or failed to 5 act in an official capacity or under of legal authority," unless another statute "that 6 grants consent to suit expressly or impliedly forbid the relief which is sought."

7 Plaintiffs have alleged that the agency's findings of fact are arbitrary or 8 capricious, and the agency used improper procedures in its decision making. The 9 Agency's erroneous findings of fact have resulted in an incorrect conclusion of 10 law which triggers review under the APA.

11 Section 704 limits judicial review to final agency action. But, there is a test 12 for "final agency action". In Bennett v. Spear, 520 U.S. 154(1997) the court held 13 that finality required satisfaction of elements: (1) "the action must mark the 14 'consummation of the agency's decision-making process – it must not be of a 15 merely tentative or interlocutory nature," and (2) "the action must be one by which 16 'rights or obligations have been determined,' or from which 'legal consequences 17 will flow." Id. at 178. In this case the first element is satisfied because the 18 agency offered its "last word" on the subject.<sup>14</sup> [¶¶56, 58, 59, 60] Army Corps of 19 Engineers v. Hawkes Co., 136 S. Ct.1807, 1813, 1814 (2016). The Court in 20 Massachusetts v. Environmental Protection Agency, 549 U.S. 497 (2007) 21 suggested that the presumption could be overcome if it were shown that the 1 agency “has ‘consciously and expressly adopted a general policy’ that is so 2 extreme as to amount to an abdication of its statutory responsibilities.” Heckler v.

3 Chaney, 470 U.S. 821, 823-35, 833 n.4 (1985). Where no administrative hearings 4 are permitted, the order becomes final. Sackett v. Environmental Protection 5 Agency, 132 S.Ct. 1367, 1372 (2012). Plaintiffs’ factual statement alleges that as 6 to the issue regarding Modesta (Martinez) Contreras, the decision was final. [See 7 SAC ¶¶ 56, 58, 59, 60, 68].

8 Final agency action can include, as 5 U.S.C. 551(13) provides, agency 9 inaction which is the failure to make an agency rule, order, license, sanction, 10 relief, or the equivalent or denial thereof, or failure to act. Plaintiffs have pled these 11 allegations in their SAC at ¶¶ 62, 70, 93, 94, 95, 99, 101. Title 5 U.S.C. 706(1) 12 requires a reviewing court to compel agency action that is “unlawfully withheld or 13 unreasonably delayed.” In Northern v. Southern Utah Wilderness Alliance, 542 14 U.S. 55 (2004), the Court held that an APA inaction claim must challenge an 15 agency’s failure to take a legally required and discrete action. Plaintiffs are clearly 16 suing all Defendants in their official capacity under the provisions of the APA.

18 LEAVE TO AMEND

19 Pursuant to the cases cited in this response and Plaintiffs’ previous response 20 and above, Plaintiffs request this Court grant them leave to amend their SAC in 21 lieu of dismissing their SAC. There is precedent for granting leave to amend. See, 22 Penalber-Fosa v. Fortno-Burset, 631 F.3d 592 (2011). (The plaintiff’s factual 23 allegations are ordinarily assumed to be true in passing on the adequacy of the 24 complaint, which need not plead evidence). See, e.g. Sepulveda-Villarinni v. Dep’t 25 Educ. 628 F.3d 25, 30 (1st Cir. 2010); Sandler v. E. Airlines, Inc., 649 F.2d 19, 20 26 (1st Cir. 1981) (per curiam). The Court in Penalber-Fosa granted leave to amend

1 even though the allegations had bald assertions, unsupportable conclusions, and 2 speculation. The Court held that the interest of justice “warrants leave to amend 3 complaint against “John Doe” Defendants. . .” See, Rivera-Gomez v. De Castro, 4 843 F.2d 631 (1st Cir. 1988). See also, Ardalan v. McHugh, 13-cv-01138-LHK
5 N.D. CA 2013. (Leave to amend was granted).

7 CONCLUSION

8 This Court should deny Defendants’ Motion to Dismiss or, in the alternative 9 grant Plaintiffs leave to amend their SAC in lieu of dismissing their SAC. There is 10 precedent for granting leave to amend. See, Penalber-Fosa v. Fortno-Burset, 631 11 Ff.3d 592 (2011); e.g. Sepulveda-Villarinni v. Dep’t Educ. 628 F.3d 25, 30 (1st Cir.
12 2010); Sandler v. E. Airlines, Inc., 649 F.2d 19, 20 (1st Cir. 1981 (per curiam)).
